Hear examples from the managed care organizations on how they are making sure that people with disabilities maintain their rights during these difficult times. Hear the guidance they are giving providers and practical ways to implement some of these strategies. Ashley Mathy, a self-advocate with People First Wisconsin, will share how important knowing and understanding these rights are for people with disabilities.

Please contact Sally Flaschberger at sally.flaschberger@wisconsin.gov if you need any accommodations to participate.
